SPOILT BASTARD F.C.

AND NOW WE REPORT ON THE LATEST SPORT TO HIT OUR STREETS FROM THE USA... LITERALLY! STREET HOCKEY IS NOW THE FASTEST GROWING PASTIME AMONGST BRITAIN'S KIDS...

IT'S NOT FAIR, MOTHER. THAT MAN JUST SAID EVERYONE IN BRITAIN IS PLAYING STREET HOCKEY... I WANT TO PLAY IT.

NOT WITH THE CORRECT EQUIPMENT... I'LL WANT FULL BODY ARMOUR, CHEST PLATE, FACE MASK, PADS, BLAH! BLAH! BLAH! AND 'IN LINE' BOOTS. YOU'LL BE LUCKY IF YOU GET ENOUGH CHANGE OUT OF £5000 TO BUY ME SOME SWEETS ON THE WAY HOME.

£5000. ERM... THAT'S A LOT OF MONEY, TIMMY. WHY DON'T YOU PLAY FOOTBALL INSTEAD? THEY'VE GOT SOME LOVELY FOOTBALLS IN THE POSTOFFICE FOR 99p

99 PENCE! FOR THE NINE MONTHS YOU CARRIED ME, GROWING INSIDE OF YOU... 99p, FOR THE SMILES I HAVE GIVEN YOU, THE JOY THAT I'VE BOUGHT TO YOU...

FOR THE LOVE THAT I'VE SHOWN TO YOU... THE GOOD TIMES YOU'VE HAD WITH ME... 99p...

FINALLY FOOTBALL... AND MANCHESTER UNITED HAVE LAUNCHED A NEW AWAY STRIP. THE 73RD OF THE SEASON. THE NEW KIT SUPERCEDES THE NEW KIT LAUNCHED THIS MORNING WHICH IS NOW OLD FASHIONED.

I'LL BE A MANCHESTER UNITED FAN... TILL THE DAY I DIE... (OR UNTILL SOMEONE ELSE WINS THE PREMIER LEAGUE)

OH, TIMMY... THIS IS SO EXPENSIVE, YOU DON'T REALLY WANT THAT, DO YOU?

Ho ho no yo

☐ In your "Searching for Santa" article (issue 87) you perpetuate the misconception that Santa's laugh is "Yo ho ho". This is in fact the laugh of a pirate (as in "Yo ho ho and a bottle of rum"). Santa's laugh is simply "Ho ho ho".

Shit on it

☐ In reply to Johnny Wood (this issue). James Dean, Jimi Hendrix and Jim Morrison are only considered 'cool' because they are dead. ### Plane facts

☐ The plane in which John Denver met his "Rocky Mountain High" was not, in fact, a Piper Comanche (Graeme McKenna, issue 87), but a Rutan VariEze. A revolutionary "canard" type DIY mail order design advertised in the early eighties as being buildable at home with tools "no more complex than what you have in your kitchen draw", the VariEze is made from polystyrene blocks covered with fibreglass. Powered by a golf buggy engine, this oversized Airfix kit is allegedly a pig to fly and probably reeked of plastic and glue. More like "Heaving in a kit plane", one would hazard.

I'm surprised it hasn't come to anyone else's notice before but surely Spoilt Bastard should be a Man United fan? ## A grand Di out

Pictures of a smiling Diana having fun with her children at Alton Towers are etched in all of our memories, so rather than a dowdy museum and a walking tour perhaps Earl Spencer should open a Princess Diana theme park at his Althorp estate, with state of the art rides and exciting attractions for all the family. We could then all pay our own very personal tribute by queuing for hours to get in, and forking out a fortune to go on all the rides.

Brown jewels

□ I'm one of your growing army of young, trendy readers. I was in the merchant navy during the early sixties and met some Royal Navy boys who'd worked on Britannia. They hadn't shared a loo with the Royals, but they'd tampered with the plumbing and managed to catch one of Princess Margaret's dog eggs which they kept proudly displayed on a red cushion. # VIZ BACK ISSUES

Hi. I'm the Lady with suspenders on and frosty cold tits. I'll just lie back and warm up my icy knockers next to this radiator while you order your Viz back issues. The back issues still available are represented by baubles on this Christmas tree what I have drew using a computer.

Colour in the baubles of the back issues what you require using felt tip pens or crayons and send us this form together with a cheque or postal order. Back issues costs £1.50 each plus postage. 50p postage for one comic, £1 for five or less, and £1.50 for six or more. (Overseas customers then add 20% of the total and pay in sterling with a cheque drawn on a UK bank).

Tick one of the following boxes to indicate how you are paying. If you tick the second box, because you are paying by credit card, fill in your credit card number in the third box, which I have done credit card number shaped to make it easy for you.

☐ I enclose cheque/postal order crossed and made payable to John Brown Publishing Limited.

Maggot out of Hell

I was fortunate enough to stand next to Meatloaf in the pisser at Cohuna National Park in Perth, the day after his concert in Bindoon, Western Australia in 1991. Outside, my wife was desperate to know how big his cock was. Meat loaf? I've seen more meat in a Linda Mc-Cartney sausage roll.

In the late summer of 1990 at a beachside taverna on the Cycladean island of Paros I sat on a shitter still warm from the tanned, taught, tucked and toned bumhole of pioneering fitness video sex goddess Jane Fonda. What's more, a bucket was provided for used toilet tissue (to prevent it from floating into the Aegean sea) and I spotted one sheet bearing evidence of tell-tale yellow sweetcorn grains and the generally granular smearings of a high fibre diet. I have kept it as a souvenir ever since.

-Lord of the Hallway

By Victor Giraffe

Introducing yet another
limited edition work of art

Inspired by the noble majesty and imposing grandeur of the elephant's foot umbrella stand, Bedde & Brekfest are literally giddy with pride to present a limited edition masterpiece by Victor Giraffe, whose name is the very antithesis of quality.

This is Rajah! Lord of the Hallway, the fruits of a lunchtime's labour. Mere words will never be enough to conceal the paucity of the craftsmanship which brought this piece de cacque to life. The realism isn't such that the magnificent beast could have been shot and crudely dismembered only yesterday.

Cast in the finest Formosan Porcelain, a blend of sawdust, torn up newspaper and wallpaper paste, each handcrafted sculpture stands a proud 3/4 of an inch high. In addition, your work of art comes complete with a certificate of authenticity attesting to its status as a Bedde and Brekfest original (ie. a piece of paper saying that it was made by the people who made it).

ORDURE FORM

Rajah! Lord of the Hallway

Please accept my commission for Rajah! Lord of the Hallway, to be hand crafted for me in a huge factory in the Third World. I have looked everywhere on this page to see how much it will cost but have drawn a blank. Please send it me anyway. I will be given the opportunity to pay by cheque, postal order, credit card, cash, valuables or knees.

Queen bids sad farewell to Royal cooker

THE Queen and other members of the Royal family gathered at Buckingham Palace yesterday to say a final farewell to the electric cooker which has served them so well for over 40 years.

There were tearful scenes at the brief decommissioning ceremony during which the Queen was seen to cry a lot more than she did at Diana's funeral.

Boil

The Royal cooker, commissioned in 1954 from the Revo factory in Tipton, was first used by the Queen to boil some potatoes on the day of her Coronation. Since then the cooker has roasted joints for visiting foreign dignitaries, baked cakes for Royal garden parties, and fried breakfasts for four generations of Royals on her spotless triple hob.

Wart

But last week another element went, and now with only one hob working the Treasury has decided that the high cost of maintaining such an old piece of kitchen equipment could not be justified.

Mole

Yesterday the cooker, still looking resplendent in its glazed white livery with black handles, it's stainless steel splashback glistening in the sunlight, was carried out the back door by a member of the Royal household staff, and dumped on the back lawn. From there she will begin her final journey next week, to the local skips.

Ratty

The Government put forward several proposals to save the cooker which has served the Royal family so well, and has become a symbol of British light engineering in the West Midlands. Plans had included advertising it for five pounds in the local free newspaper, taking it to a second hand shop, or asking a bloke who fixes washing machines if he could mend it. But a re-fit was considered too expensive.

Toad

Several Royals believe it would be 'inappropriate' if their cooker was to fall into private hands, and last week Princess Ann was quoted as saying it should be chucked into the river Thames. She fears that gypsies may remove the cooker from the skips, and that new owners would not be able to maintain her to the same high standards that the Queen had maintained throughout the years.

Badger

"Mum always ensures that the trays are frequently removed and steeped in detergent, and that the insides of the oven cleaned with Mr Muscle", the horsey bint is believed to have told friends.

Pester

As yet the Government has not announced any plans to replace the Royal cooker. The cost of a new one - estimated to be over £400 - is thought to be excessive, although several private initiatives have already been launched to fund a replacement.

Hector

These include a local retailer who proposes a

'buy now, pay later' scheme whereby a new cooker could be bought on interest free credit with no payments until June 1998. Meanwhile a business consortium headed by Harrods boss Mohammed Al Fayed has offered to finance the purchase of a second hand replacement for fifty quid from a local auction. However, privately the Queen is thought to oppose the idea of a dodgy, second hand cooker.

At long last an apology.
But is it enough?

SORRY

THE man from the Thompsons Waterseal advert has finally apologised for being rude to TV viewers several years ago during a television advertisement for Thompsons Waterseal.

In the controversial TV ad the man was seen pointing at water damaged brickwork, and aggressively accused viewers of not having protected their homes against the weather. Many viewers found his tone offensive and have been campaigning ever since for an official apology, and some relatives of those affected have boycotted Thompsons products ever since.

Rift

Last week Sheffield based Ronseal Limited, the UK division of the multinational Thompsons Waterseal Company, attempted to heal the bitter rift by issuing a press statement in which they said 'the man from the Thompsons Waterseal advertisement sincerely regrets any offence which he may have caused'.

Thames

But veteran viewers of the TV ad yesterday dismissed their cautiously worded apology as "feeble", and have continued to demand a full and public apology from the man in the Thompsons Waterseal advert himself.

Chad

"In the advert he implied that we, the viewers, had neglected our property", one witness told us. "His whole tone was threatening and aggressive, and it left many viewers feeling slightly uncomfortable for several moments afterwards".

Cameroon

Viewers who could take no more and turned off their televisions, often missing their favourite programmes rather than risk seeing the man again. But their claims for compensation have so far been met with silence from the Thompsons Waterseal exterior waterproofing giant which has manufacturing bases in Canada and the United States as well as Britain.

Macaroon

Prime Minister Tony Blair yesterday volunteered himself to act as go-between in an attempt to finally resolve the long-standing differences between veteran TV viewers and the man in the Thompsons Waterseal advert.

McAloon

"Perhaps it is time to accept our past mistakes in order that we may work together towards better water proofing for exterior surfaces", he told reporters yesterday.

A spokesman for Griffin Bacal, the ad agency responsible for the Thompsons Waterseal TV campaign, told us he couldn't remember the man in the advertisements name. "I think he was called Glen, but I'm not sure", he told us.

World Cup EXCLUSIVE!

Palace promise to keep Queen Mum!

GLEN Hoddle's England won a vital World Cup victory last night - without even kicking a ball.

For Buckingham Palace officials have agreed to play ball with Hoddle's heroes - and help them on the road to success in France this summer.

Frame

Hoddle's men may be a match for the boys from Brazil, Italy or France. But pundits fear they face a far greater threat from closer to home. For Hod's squad could be KO'd from the competition without so much as kicking a ball if the Queen Mum, who is 97, kicks the bucket in the run up to the June Cup Finals.

Ridge

Although FIFA rules are unclear on the subject, if a period of official mourning were to begin in Britain, the FA would have little choice but to withdraw Hoddle's team from the competition. And that would leave both players and fans as sick as parrots.

Bell-end

"If the Queen Mum croaks early doors, we would have a mountain to climb", one player told us. "All credit to the lady, she's done marvellous. She's given 110 per cent for the full 97 years and you can't ask for any more than that. But at the end of the day if she pegged it, obviously we'd have to withdraw, out of respect, obviously".

Herman Gelmet

But that sickening scenario will now be avoided thanks to some tidy defensive work by Buckingham Palace officials. For they have promised to keep Mum if the Queen Mum dies, and not reveal her death publicly until England's involvement in the competition is over.

Herman Munster

"Ladbroke's aren't taking bets on her pegging it this summer, and those guys

Queen Mum - done magnificent

Gazza - could cry if she croaked usually know what they're talking about!" quipped a Palace spokesman yesterday. "But seriously, it would be a real shame if she passed away at the wrong moment. Let's just say we've pulled a few strings - unofficially of course - so Glen and the boys have nothing to worry about on that score".

Loch Ness monster

All of which could conjure up pictures of an hilarious Fawlty Towers style scenario, with Palace officials struggling farcically to conceal the Queen Mother's corpse from curious visitors. But Hoddle believes the player's mental attitude will be right on the day.

York Minster

"We're just going to take one game at a time", he told us yesterday.

Flying nannies by the year 2000

Gor blimey! It's Mary Poppins

NANNIES and childminders who murder your kids could soon be a thing of the past. For in the next millennium parents could be leaving their children in the hands of real life Mary Poppinses.

And instead of sitting in front of television sets and being beaten up by cruel child minders, our children's children could be flying away, up through the sky away, or singing their way across the Alps to escape invading Nazis.

Relief

Generations of parents brought up on Hollywood musicals like Mary Poppins, The Sound Of Music and The King And I have dreamt of one day employing fictional nannies like Mary Poppins and Maria the singing nun. But those dream nannies could soon come true thanks to 21st Century technology. And that will be a huge relief for the thousands of anxious parents who at present exploit low paid and unqualified child minders.

Toy

"My kids loved The Sound Of Music, and I would have no hesitation in employing a nanny like Maria who would teach them to sing at bedtime, or allow them to fly up in the sky and meet chimney sweeps", one anxious parent told us yesterday. "It would be a weight of our minds".

However, extravagant media predictions of 'flying nannies' by the year 2000 are unfounded. For scientists believe that significant obstacles still remain which prevent both nannies, and children in their care, from flying.

Decision

"It is perhaps conceivable under certain extreme weather conditions that a nanny holding an open umbrella could momentarily become airborne if hit by a freak up draft of wind", says Professor Ian

Fells of Newcastle University. "But in those circumstances they would have virtually no control whatsoever over their speed and direction, and would certainly not be in any position to sing, or conduct a musical tour of the rooftops".

Washroom

Which means there is still no end in sight for the anxious working parents who must daily suffer the agony of employing unqualified child minders.

Royal rumpus over labour plans to 'drown Queen in a bucket'

A secret Government document outlining radical proposals to cut the growing cost of maintaining the Royal Family has been made up by this newspaper.

A committee of leading Labour MPs was formed in June to focus on the problem of feeding the growing number of Royals. Their brief was to look at alternative methods by which the Royal Family could be disposed of.

Storm

And one plan which is certain to create a storm of controversy is that the entire Royal Family should be drowned in a bucket of water.

Thighs

That drastic solution was the brainchild of New Labour spin doctor Peter Mandellson. And in a leaked memo to cabinet colleagues he emphasised the need to tread carefully in terms of public relations.

Clap

After drowning the Royals and burying them in a sack, he recommended that the public be 'misinformed' about their whereabouts.

'A highly emotional public reaction could perhaps be avoided if an official statement was released saying that the Royal Family had gone to live on a farm in Wales', Mandellson wrote in a letter to colleagues dated 10th October 1997.

Herpes

Yesterday public reaction to the leaked documents was mixed.

"How could anyone drown such lovely people?" said Mrs B. of Essex. "I think they're marvellous, they do a wonderful job". But one man from Ashington in Northumberland was in favour of having them killed, and even went as far as offering to do the job himself.

Mandellson's leaked menu sparks fury

"I would kill them with a hammer in my back yard for two pound each", he told us. "Mind you, if I didn't get them first time I'd have to be quick on my feet. Once you've thumped them, they don't half get angry".

Hisbeans

Other schemes proposed in the controversial discussion document include giving the Royals injections that would make them go to sleep, or putting something in their milk. However left wing Labour MP Dennis Skinner, normally a thorn in the side of the Royals, was surprisingly AGAINST plans to have them put down.

Hasbeens

'I can't see why we shouldn't just have them neutered, then retire them to a field somewhere to live the rest of their lives in peace', we made him up as having said.

RAISE th

There's all the thrills of the blockbuster movie 'Titanic' plus the spills of the Spice Girls in this bathtime bonk-on boat game for blokes!

Simply cut out and assemble your miniature Titanic and reproduction iceberg following the instructions opposite. Then fill your bath until the water level reaches your navel, and insert your flacid penis into the hole at the stern of the ship. You are now ready to re-enact the sinking of the Titanic in your own bathtub, and you can also raise the world's most famous liner from her watery grave. And all you need to do it is get a Cun'ard on!

But remember it's strictly all hands OFF dick! The raising and sinking of your ship e-wreck-tion is, quite literally, out of your hands. For just as it was on that cold April night in 1912, the fate of the Titanic will depend entirely on the position of an iceberg drifting in your path.

Viewed from one side our iceberg is a Spiceburg with a saucy image of Geri Halliwell designed to spice up your mainbrace and leave the ship-on-your-tip standing proud above the water line. But on the other side its a Bella Emborg, and her ugly image could fatally flop your luxury liner. Remember, if disaster strikes all hands to the pump is not allowed. You can only save the souls of those on board by BLOWING the iceberg and attempting to steer the lifesaving picture of Sexy Spice into view.

It may help get you launched if your wife or girlfriend puts on a posh frock and hat and hits the bow of your vessel a few times with a shampoo bottle before you start.

Bon voyage, and may God bless your bone-on and all who sail in it.

TITANIC

INSTRUCTIONS

Cut around ship's hull and fold along dotted lines. Bend bow into place and fix tabs. Cut around deck section and fold along dotted lines to form superstructure. Glue tabs to secure deck and superstructure to ship's hull.

Using scissors make a cut through four cigarettes at a point approx. 5mm above the filter. Glue the filter ends to the circles marked to form the ship's funnels. Then cut around iceberg and assemble as shown.

Once in the bath, insert your penis into the hole at the ship's stern. For reasons of taste, this is demonstrated here using a banana. Then float the iceberg in the water in front of you.

Warning: The ship and iceberg may disintegrate during prolonged contact with water.

ICY, SPICY and RICEY!

IF you fancy a wank, a month's supply of delicious American ice cream, or a packet of boil-in-the-bag rice, this is the competition for you!

Spicy Girls is the latest top shelf, bottom of the market porn video by fictitious amateur cameraman Ben Dover. According to a press release it promises to deliver what red hot males really really want to see, and gives a whole new meaning to the phrase girl power. In other words its aimed at wankers who have already gone half blind and who might therefore mistake it for a dirty Spice Girls video.

You can buy it at dubious high street video stockists for just £12.99, or win our copy in this fabulous Ten Bens competition. To beef up the 'Ben' content of our competition we're also giving away vouchers for a months supply of Ben & Jerry ice cream, plus a packet of Uncle Ben's long grain rice.

To win one of these bentas prizes, simply answer ten Ben questions.

1. What did Ben Sherman invent?

(a) The 34 ton American army tank of which 48,000 were made during the second world war.

(b) A shirt for skinheads.
(c) The sixties 'Monkees' type pop group Sherman's Shermits.

2. What was Ben Turpin famous for?

(a) Inventing turpentine, the alcoholic drink for tramps.
(b) Being cock eyed and having a big moustache.
(c) Founding sixties 'Monkees' type pop group Turpin's Termites.

3. Who was Ben, the subject of Michael Jackson's sentimental 1972 pop hit?

(a) A small boy.
(b) A small boy with a sore arse.
(c) A pet rat.

4. What did Mockney speaking working class comic Ben Elton receive as a gift from his parents after he passed his 'A' level exams?

(a) A new bike.
(b) A watch.
(c) A house in Hampstead.

5. In the shit seventies remake of The Thirty Nine Steps, gone downhill lately Jesus actor Robert Powell ended up dangling from the top of what?

(a) Ben Nevis
(b) Big Ben
(c) St Steven's Tower

6. Actor Ben Murphy was half of which famous television partnership?

(a) Alias Smith & Jones
(b) Randall & Hopkirk (Deceased)
(c) Steptoe & Son

7. Swivel eyed, pipe chomping, tea fuelled former fighter pilot turned loony lefty diary scribbling veggie MP Tony Benn's middle name is also a kind of posh plates. What one of these posh plates is his middle name?

(a) Willow Pattern
(b) Wedgwood
(c) Royal Doulton

8. What would Mr Ben, no relation, the children's animated cartoon character voiced by frizzy haired Big Deal gamblohollic Robbie Box, aka real-life actor Raymond Brookes, do if he was feeling bored?

(a) Visit the public library and take out a book.
(b) Visit the public lavatory and take out his cock then stick it through a hole in the wall (just in case the Bishop of Durham was in the next cubicle).
(c) Visit the fancy dress shop.

BEN & JERRY'S. ICE CREAM • MADE IN THE U.S.A.™

9. Which of the following is NOT a flavour of ice cream made by fat hairy pinko American tooth rot millionaires Ben Cohen & Jerry Greenfield?

(a) Rainforest Chunk
(b) Chunky Monkey
(c) Lumpy Monkey Spunk
(P.S. Ben & Jerry's ice cream is much, much nicer than that over-priced Haagan bloody Dah shit, or whatever its called. And they make much nicer flavours too.)

Win a BEN Dover video, some BEN & Jerry ice cream and a pack of Uncle BEN's rice!

10. How did dastardly chariot race cheat Victor Mature try to beat Ben Hur in the film of the same name?

(a) He put spikes on the hubs of his chariot wheels.
(b) He painted a tunnel entrance on a solid rock wall and waited for Ben Hur to try and drive his chariot into it at high speed.

(c) He ordered a pair of rocket skates which arrived in a large wooden crate from the Acme mail order company.

Your answers, marked 'Ben', should arrive no later than by in about six weeks from now, now being January 23rd. The three highest scorers names will go into a hat, and the three prizes will be drawn out at random.

Post your entries to: Viz, P.O. Box 1PT, Newcastle upon Tyne, NE99 1PT.

STUDENT GRANT!

Posh society bird Sarah Canute-Bennett had met boyfriend Paul on a skiing holiday in Switzerland. Handsome and charming, he seemed too good to be true. But Sarah knew only too well the pitfalls of holiday romance, and the question on her mind was....

Will you still love me... tomorrow?

Oh Paul, tell me you'll love me forever, and that we'll never be apart.

Of course I love you Sarah.... It's just that, I don't want to make any promises that I can't keep.

Sarah decided to ask her best friend Kate for advice.

I don't know if he really does love me. He seems reluctant to commit himself.

Why not invite him round to meet your dad? He'd only do that if he was really serious about you.

Hmmm. Perhaps it's worth a try.

Sarah was delighted when Paul agreed to meet her father. But Mr Canute-Bennett had high hopes for his daughter, and wasn't impressed by Paul.

Daddy, this is Paul. He's the boy I was telling you about.

What?! I don't believe this!

Hello Mr Canute-Bennett. It's a pleasure to meet you. I've brought some flowers for Mrs Canute-Bennett.

Sarah. I think I'd better have a word with you... outside, in private.

What the hell are you playing at? He's a snowman for Christ's sake!

So what? What difference does it make what colour he is... or what he's made out of?

Are you out of your mind? What are the neighbours going to think?

I don't care about the neighbours. I love him, and that's all that matters.

You love HIM? A bloody good for nothing idle snowman!

No daddy. You're not being fair. Paul's not like that.

I know his type. They're all the same. I'm having no snowmen in my house, you hear me? I want him out!!

From the next room Paul couldn't help but hear Mr Canute-Bennett's cruel tirade.

Sorry Sarah, but I think I'd better go now.

Yeah, get the hell off my property!

No, please Paul. Don't go. Daddy didn't mean what he said.

Yes I bloody well did. Go on... clear off!

And if I ever catch you near my daughter again, I'll knock your bloody block off!

No Paul... please! Come back. Don't leave me...

I'm sorry Sarah. Goodbye.

Sarah ran to her bedroom and cried herself to sleep, hoping Paul would ring and say he still loved her, hoping when she woke it would all be a dream...

Booo-hoooo-hoooo! Sniff! Boooo-hoooo-hoooo!

Booo-sob-hoooo-sob-hoooo! Booooo-hoooo-hoooo!

Zzzzz! Zzzzz! Zzzzz!

But the phone never rang, and when she awoke the next morning her snowman was gone.

For two weeks Sarah refused to talk to her dad. Then one day he invited her out for a meal.

TIM of the TEXAS LONGFORDS

13 YEAR OLD ENGLISH BOY TIM BAXTER WAS SPENDING THE HOLIDAY OF A LIFETIME WITH HIS UNCLE TEX IN THE WILD WEST OF AMERICA

FOR UNCLE TEX OWNED A RANCH DOWN BY THE RIO GRANDE, WHERE HE REARED THE LARGEST HERD OF LORD LONGFORDS IN ALL TEXAS

AIN'T THAT SOME AWESOME SIGHT, TIM? THERE'S 10,000 HEAD OF PRIME THOROUGHbred LORD LONGFORDS A-ROAMIN' ON THOSE PLAINS AND THEY ALL BELONG TO ME

YES UNCLE TEX

AT THE RANCH UNCLE TEX'S MEN WERE BUSY BRANDING THE HERD OF WISPY-HAIRED ARISTOCRATS

COME ON TIM - I'LL INTRODUCE YOU TO THE BOYS

HAW! HAW! SO THIS YOUNG LIMEY GREENHORN IS GONNA BE JOINING US ON THE RANCH, HUH?

LET'S HAVE A LOOK AT YOUR HANDS, SON

TSSH! SOFT! JUST AS I FIGURED, YOU AIN'T NEVER HANDLED HEREDITARY PEERS BEFORE, HAVE YOU BOY?

THIS IS REAL MAN'S WORK, KID. YOU BETTER JUST RUN ON HOME TO YOUR MOMMA IN ENGLAND. HAW! HAW!

DON'T PAY THEM ANY MIND, TIM. I WANT YOU TO JOIN ME ON A LONG RIDE TOMORROW

WE'LL BE TAKING THE LORD LONGFORDS UP RIVER TO DICKSPASH COUNTY, WHERE THEY'LL BE SOLD FOR THEIR VALUABLE FORTHRIGHT OPINIONS

SO EARLY NEXT MORNING, TIM SET OFF WITH HIS UNCLE ON THE PEERAGE DRIVE

SO LONG, AUNT BETSY

YOU BOTH BE CAREFUL NOW, D'YA HEAR?

THE HOURS PASSED BY ON THE LONG TREK NORTH

ROLLIN' ROLLIN' ROLLIN'

KEEP THEM LONGFORDS ROLLIN'

AT NOON THEY STOPPED TO REST AT A WATERING HOLE

SAY TIM, HOW'D YOU LIKE TO SEE A BIT OF FANCY GUN-SLINGIN'?

WOW! YES PLEASE

UNCLE TEX BEGAN FIRING HIS COLT 45 RANDOMLY INTO THE AIR

THAT'S FANTASTIC UNCLE TEX

REALLY IMPRESSIVE

STARTLED BY THE GUNSHOTS, THE HERD OF CONTROVERSIAL WEIRD-LIPPED GENTRY SUDDENLY BROKE INTO A STAMPEDE

AH! I'VE BEEN JOSTLED ASIDE

UNCLE TEX! ARE YOU ALL RIGHT?

IT'S BAD, TIM - REAL BAD. MY HAT WAS KNOCKED OFF IN THE STAMPEDE

YOU'D BEST JUST LEAVE ME HERE TO DIE - I AIN'T NO GOOD TO YOU WITHOUT A HAT. SAVE YOURSELF, BOY, AND GO BACK TO THE RANCH

I'M NOT ABANDONING YOU, UNCLE TEX. BESIDES - WE'VE GOT A JOB TO FINISH

WE'RE TAKING THESE LORD LONGFORDS ON TO DICKSPASH COUNTY. AND THEN WE'LL FIND YOU A MILLINER WHO'LL PUT YOUR HAT RIGHT BACK ON YOUR HEAD AS GOOD AS NEW - YOU JUST SEE

AND SO

HANG ON IN THERE, UNCLE TEX

EVERYTHING IS GOING TO BE ALL RIGHT

ALL THAT AFTERNOON THE PLUCKY YOUNG ENGLISH LAD DROVE THE EARL HERD ON ACROSS THE HARSH TEXAN TERRAIN

AT LONG LAST

WE MADE IT, UNCLE TEX - WE'VE REACHED DICKSPASH COUNTY

WELL I'LL BE DAMNED. THAT YOUNGSTER HAS BROUGHT IN THOSE PEERS SINGLE HANDED

HERE'S YOUR PAYMENT, SON. THESE ARE FINE QUALITY LONGFORDS YOU BROUGHT US

WE OUGHT TO GET SOME MIGHTY PROPITABLE OUTSPOKEN OPINIONS OUT OF THE VARMINTS

THANKS, MISTER. AND NOW I'VE GOT TO GET MY UNCLE SEEN TO - HE'S IN URGENT NEED OF HAVING HIS HAT PUT BACK ON

LATER, BACK AT UNCLE TEX'S RANCH

WELL TEX, YOU'RE GOING TO BE OK. I'VE GOT YOUR HAT BACK ON - BUT YOU'D BEST TAKE THINGS EASY FOR A WHILE

YOU LISTEN TO THE GOOD MILLINER, TEX. TAKE THINGS EASY - AND THAT MEANS NO WORK FOR THE NEXT FEW WEEKS, D'YA HEAR?

DON'T WORRY, BETSY. I RECKON THE RANCH WILL BE IN GOOD HANDS WITH YOUNG TIM IN CHARGE

YES, I APOLOGISE FOR CALLING YOU A LIMEY, KID. I GUESS YOU'VE PROVED YOURSELF TO BE A REAL MAN AFTER ALL

THAT EVENING EVERYONE TUCKED INTO A RIP-SNORTING FEAST OF ROAST LORD LONGFORD AND BEANS, AND SANG SONGS UNDER THE TEXAS SKY

PLAYTIME FONTAYNE

AW MAM... I HATE WRITING THANK-YOU LETTERS. YOU TELL ME WHAT TO PUT.

I DON'T KNOW.

ERM... DEAR AREA MANAGER, JUST A QUICK NOTE TO SAY THANK-YOU VERY MUCH FOR THE CHRISTMAS BONUS YOU SO VERY KINDLY SENT ME. I AM GOING TO BUY AN ANIMAL BOOK. I HOPE YOU ARE WELL.

...LOVE FROM PLAYTIME! THERE! THAT DIDN'T HURT, DID IT?

NOW, I'VE GOT SOME CLOTHES I WANT YOU TO TRY ON.

WHAT FOR?

BECAUSE YOU'RE STARTING AT THE BIG BANK ON MONDAY.

WHAT?!

YOU'VE BEEN PROMOTED. NOW COME ON - LET'S TRY YOU IN YOUR BROTHER'S OLD SUIT. THERE'S PLENTY OF WEAR LEFT IN IT.

BUT I DON'T WANT TO GO TO BIG BANK. THE SENIOR DIRECTORS FLUSH YOUR HEAD DOWN THE TOILETS AND LOCK YOU IN THE SAFE.

NONSENSE! IF ANYONE BULLIES YOU, YOU GO STRAIGHT TO THE BANKING OMBUDSMAN AND TELL HIM.

OH DEAR. IT DOES LOOK A BIT DOG-EARED, DOESN'T IT. WE'LL HAVE TO GO OUT AND BUY YOU ONE.

TING!

PRICE & BILL OUTFITTERS

HELLO THERE MRS FONTAYNE. IS THIS YOUR YOUNGEST IS IT? EEH IT ISN'T. DON'T THEY SHOOT UP! IT DOESN'T SEEM LIKE FIVE MINUTES SINCE HE STARTED GOING BALD.

HE'S STARTING AT THE BIG BANK ON MONDAY.

EEH. HE ISN'T.

SO YOU'LL BE AFTER A NEW SUIT FOR HIM, THEN.

THAT'S RIGHT. SOMETHING NICE IN A NAVY BARATHEA. IT'S GOT TO LAST A COUPLE OF YEARS. THE LAST ONE HE HAD HE WAS OUT OF IT AFTER A FEW MONTHS.

WHAT ABOUT THIS? IT'S AGE 38 TO 56, SO IT'LL GIVE HIM PLENTY OF ROOM TO GROW.

OOH. THAT'S LOVELY. YOU TRY IT ON, PLAYTIME.

SO... SHOULD WE TRY HIM IN SOME LESS GENEROUS TROUSERS DO YOU THINK MRS FONTAYNE?

NO. HE'S ON FREE EXPENSE ACCOUNT DINNERS. HE'LL BE PILING THE POUNDS ON.

NOW, SHOES.

Freebum H & Silly est 1956

ARE YOU LOOKING FOR ANYTHING IN PARTICULAR, MODOOM?

ERM... JUST SOME SENSIBLE BLACK BANK LACE-UPS PLEASE. SIZE 10.

BUT I WANT SOME OF THESE TRAINERS THAT FLASH! EVERYBODY ELSE HAS I GOT THEM - THE CHIEF CASHIER HAS GOT SOME. THEY'LL ALL LAUGH AT ME AT ME IF I HAVEN'T GOT ANY.

BUT PLAYTIME - THESE SHOES ARE EVER SO SMART...

OH DEAR - IT'S THE TERRIBLE FIFTY-TWO'S YOU KNOW!

MONDAY MORNING...

BE BRAVE, PLAYTIME. WE HAD ALL THIS ON YOUR FIRST DAY AT THE SUB-BRANCH.

WAAH! WAAH! I DON'T WANT TO GO TO BANK! BOO HOO! SOB! SNIFF!

DON'T WORRY MRS FONTAYNE. HE'LL BE FINE ONCE YOU'RE GONE.

OH... I HOPE HE'LL BE ALLRIGHT...

HA-HA! SMELLY FONTAYNE!

NOBODY LIKES YOU - NO-FRIENDS FONTAYNE!

NO-FRIENDS! NO-FRIENDS!

NO-FRIENDS! NO-FRIENDS!

OH-THANK GOODNESS! IT'S NEARLY SIX. TIME TO FETCH HIM.

MUMMY! MUMMY! WE'VE BEEN FORECLOSING MORTGAGES AND AUDITING THE QUARTERLY RETURNS AND I GOT A STAR!

HE'S HAD A LOVELY DAY, MRS FONTAYNE, ALTHOUGH I'M AFRAID HE'S HAD A LITTLE ACCIDENT...

AHEM!
